WHAT IS GLASSTECH ASIA

Join us at Asia's most anticipated glass and façade event, taking place at IMPACT Exhibition and Convention Centre, Bangkok, Thailand.

From 29 Nov - 1 Dec 2023, the 19th Ed Glasstech Asia and 6th Ed Fenestration Asia will showcase all things glass and buildings. You can expect to meet decision makers from sectors in manufacturing, processing, and supplies for glass machineries, along with construction and façade. Experience a holistic view of both industries, learn from experts through our conferences, and expand your business horizons with quality opportunities.

Organised by MMI Asia and partnered with the Singapore Glass Association (SGA), Glasstech Asia and Fenestration Asia are proudly endorsed by and is a part of the global BAU Network.

WHY THAILAND?

Expanding Government Tech Projects

Construction market worth US$26.2B, projected to achieve AAGR of >3% over next 3 years.

Smart city in Chonburi province underway with government supporting US$37B over 10 years.

The government has also inaugurated the construction of a smart industrial park project in Rayong resulting in a strong demand for architectural glass.

69M Population & Heart of SEA

Thailand is the second-largest economy in the ASEAN region. It is one of the most lucrative regions for the glass and façade sector, with several Chinese-based firms relocating part of their supply chain to Thailand. The country is a strategic location equipped with business-friendly policies, tech advancements, and more.

Demand for Glass

Our sector is slated to lead the global flat glass market and grow steadily.

The automotive sector is expected to grow rapidly in Asia.

Green and environmental friendly products including solar control glass, smart glass, bird-friendly glass and more are hitting the market with foreseeable demand.

Glass processors are slated to return to the norm with domestic and international market will see a steady recovery.

Demand for convenient glass packaging and increased demand from end-user drive the market to provide a range of solutions for F&B, perfumery, cosmetics and more.
